BOARD OF REGISTRATION FOR HANCOCK COUNTY APPOINTED BY JOHNSON

Members of Hancock County Election Commission To Serve on Wednesday, October 16—School Teachers Expected to Assist—No Pay For Registers—Patriotic Duty Outstanding Motive.

E. J. Arceneaux, Roger M. Boh and John D. Mollere, of Bay St. Louis, election commissioners Hancock county, have been designated by Governor Paul Johnson as members of the Board of Draft Registers, to serve without pay, the work deemed a patriotic duty. No one engaged in this work will receive compensation.

The date for registrants, all male citizens aged from 21 to 35, inclusive, is Wednesday, October 16, from 7 o'clock morning to 9 o'clock that night. Every voting precinct in Hancock county will be a place of registration and everyone serving at the different precincts will also work without pay.

The government has announced that school teachers will be expected to assist in the giant task, assisting in the work that must be done in one day.

It is expected that 4,500,000 men will be registered over the country. Of this number the Draft Board, a separate body from above, will register (first call) 400,000. Of this number Hancock county figures are not just now available. However, since Mississippi has pretty well already filled its quota with voluntary enlistments, comparatively little will be called from Mississippi for first call.

The Draft Board will act according to selections (by numbers drawn at Washington), and will consider the work of selection and exemption. Messrs. Arceneaux, Boh and Mollere request all assistance possible in registering draftees. They will welcome voluntary clerical help.

We have books for the old and the young. We have fiction written around events and conditions of today; we have non-fiction dealing with general and specific problems of the present; we have books which link the past with the present; we have books of a lighter vein and mysteries for the tired business man who wants to relax; we have romance for your teen age daughters and adventure for your teen age sons; we have delightful attractive books for children. Come in and read free of charge—we need your support.

We hope you will feature National Book Week in your November program.

WAVELAND HAS FLAG RAISING

C. M. Burgdahl, War Veteran, Delivers Address—Ray Morero Raises Flag.

Fully in keeping with the spirit of the times, and fully American and patriotic as well as any other 100 per cent community, on Monday Waveland had its own flag raising on the grounds of Waveland municipal school, Coleman avenue. Appropriate exercises in the auditorium was held and the program included the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and America.

The flag raising was sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps Post No. 139, American Legion, and C. M. Burgdahl was the principal speaker. After the program the entire school repaired to the campus and Alvah Ruhr and Ray Morero raised the flag. Mr. Burgdahl gave a short history of the flag and taught the children the correct salute and the proper way to fold the flag.

Mr. Burgdahl is a veteran of the Spanish-American war and is fully prepared and versed in making an address at any time and anywhere on similar subject. A patriotic citizen, he is ever active in the cause of our country.

Miss Mary Perkins, principal of the school expressed herself Tuesday night to The Echo expressing her entire satisfaction at the manner in which the program was presented and how the public responded to this patriotic demonstration. The flag, Miss Perkins said, will unfurl its colors daily on the school grounds according to the hours prescribed.

Methodists Of City Show Marked Enterprise And Progressiveness

The Methodist church of our community as a whole is to be congratulated on the enhancement of its property on Second and Main streets, three valuable and ornate structures that not only beautify our city but representative of the moral and spiritual side of life.

The attractive church building is receiving the finishing touches of the painters' brush. The Sunday school annex will be the next and the parsonage, buildings of size and impressiveness.

Such improvements for maintenance require money and the congregation was not slow in realizing the necessary funds. The pastor, as well as his flock, are expressive of their appreciation and the community realizes in the fullest sense the value of such contribution and acquisition.

ROTARY MOVES FOR CHRISTMAS

Coach George Westerfield, Bay Hi School, was guest speaker Wednesday before Bay St. Louis Rotary Club and was liberally applauded for his enthusiastic and splendid talk about the local team, prospects and possibilities.

He made a plea for a local athletic club for business men and others, who viewed the strenuous football games and other athletic diversions but who themselves never took slightest exercise. He said they should not only participate in the games from the seats of the gridiron but should have such games as basketball teams of their own and get out and become fit. If already fit it would help them to stay fit.

On motion, it was agreed a committee of three Rotarians would be appointed as a committee to collect toys for the poor children at Christmas time. In addition to this committee ladies from outside would be appointed to ask to co-operate in this work. The subject was received with interest and President Grady Perkins will appoint this committee at once in order the work may begin.

This gesture for poor children would in no way conflict with any other Christmas tree or entertainment provided for the poor by other sources, it was stated.

CONSTRUCTION OF ADDITIONAL SCHOOL ROOMS PROGRESSING

Additional Funds Will Be Needed to Operate School; Increased Assessment Commended.

Work on the south wing of Bay High School auditorium has begun in earnest while that of the north side (exterior) is finished. This will provide the school will eight additional class rooms, four on each side and will call for more teachers.

Superintendent Ingram said, when school session had opened during the early part of last month, he had a sufficient enrollment to fill all rooms. Hence, it will be noted that, according to the growth of the school, this addition will be inadequate if not for immediate use but for the future.

It will be necessary to increase the city budget by $5,000 additionally for schools this year over the amount of last year, reports the city hall.

Thus for this alone it will be seen the necessity for increased assessment aside from the fact the city has not had sufficient values to collect for actual overhead.

The increase of twenty-five per cent over last year's assessment is imperative and there is no way out. The city so far has been unable to pay its bills. This is no reflection on the ability of those who administer to municipal affairs but a matter of arithmetic. It is better to raise the revenue and the city, self-respecting, and in a business-like way, pay its bills every month.

Assessments have been gradually lowered each year in response to the cry of "high taxes." The result has proven well nigh disastrous. It is impossible to enjoy the advantages of a city, protection, etc., and not pay for it.

The increase is just. It is a business-like method and will keep the city's good name. We cannot progress otherwise, unless, at least, we pay our debts.

During the football game between Bay High School and Pascagoula, played last Friday night at St. Stanislaus stadium the Bay High School band under direction of Professor Morgan, performed in its usual excellent manner and a good deal of comment was made on the excellent display of a cross formed by members of the band wearing small lights on their caps with all lights on the field turned off, and the raising of a flag with a spot light on it, while the band played "God Bless America."

The band also saluted Pascagoula's representation at the game and marched and played its "Alma Mater" and the patriotic program was highly pleasing and greatly enjoyed by everyone present.

HANCOCK PUPILS RETURN

To High School This Year—Made Possible by NYA Federal Project.

Approximately 59 High School students in Hancock County will be enabled to return to school this month because of the Student Work Program of National Youth Administration. Last year 7 high schools in Hancock county were allocated $2,139.00 to enable youths to continue their educational training.

More than 5000 high school students in Mississippi are being enabled to return to school this month as a result of part-time jobs provided by the National Youth Administration, it was announced today by State Administrator J. C. Flowers.

During the entire school year now starting more than 7000 different High School students will be given part-time work for wages which means the difference between being able to continue their education and dropping out of school.

More than 700 tax-exempt, non-profit making secondary schools, which have been certified as bona fide educational institutions by State Superintendent of Education, J. S. Vandiver, will participate. Parochial and other privately controlled institutions, as well as public schools which have established their eligibility will participate in the NYA Program.

Local school authorities will be responsible for the selections of the students to be employed and for the establishment of suitable types of work activities. Students are selected on the basis of proved needs and demonstrated scholastic ability and earn between $3 and $6 a month. During the last school year the students employed by the National Youth Administration came from families having average annual incomes of $557.00.

All though they are required to work a given number of hours each month, in addition to their regular studies, NYA employed students have maintained better than average grades.

Over the entire nation 300,000 high school students will participate in the NYA Student Work Program in 28,000 institutions, Aubrey Williams, NYA National Administrator reports.

Optimistic View Of Pecan Crop For Local Section This Fall

With the approach of the Fall season, persons having pecan trees, and pecan orchards are beginning to gather their crops and figure on what the harvest of pecans will net them this season.

It was feared that the pecan crop this year would be a total loss due to the havoc wrought to the trees during the recent severe storm, but a very optimistic view is now being taken as the damage was not as severe as had first been thought and with the real scarcity of pecans in the Georgia region, it is expected that better prices will be received for pecans here this year.

If Governor Johnson has appointed three members to the Hancock County branch of selective Service Act as he will, only two, so far, are known. These are Laurent Dickson and Warren Traub, of Bay St. Louis. Neither knows if a third man has been appointed, and if he has, which is most likely, that man has not as yet made it known to the two who are known to have been appointed. It might be some one out in the rural districts.

Dr. C. L. Horton of Bay St. Louis has been appointed medical adviser. And Mr. D. M. Russell, as stated elsewhere in this issue of The Echo, appeal officer.

"There will be three members of each board with an employed clerk to assist in all clerical work," says the letter of notification to members appointed to the Draft Board. SOME EDITORS FOOL THEMSELVES.

EDITORS take their views very seriously and it is right and proper that they should because no man deserves the confidence of his readers if he treats lightly the obligation that rests upon every writer to public consumption.

Just the same, every once in a while, we are highly amused by the absurd seriousness of some editors and columnists. To read them, you would think, if you did not know better, that the entire world waited anxiously for their daily or weekly, slurs upon their superiors.

We hope there are readers who like the stuff that we put in our columns but if there is anybody losing sleep over our deductions and elucidations, we feel sorry for them. Moreover, if we ever get the notion that it is our business to pass judgment eternal upon the President of the United States, we hope somebody will begin to laugh loud enough for us to hear them.

FOOLISH STATEMENT AWARD.

OF ALL the foolish statements attributed to foreign statesmen since the War in Europe began, the highest award, so far as we are concerned, goes to Foreign Minister Paul Baudouin, of France.

Undoubtedly incensed because British warships, led by General de Gaulle, shelled the West African port of Dakar preparatory to landing troops, the French Foreign Minister asserted, "Wounded as she may be, France still is capable of defending herself and replying blow for blow."

If this statement is correct, the logical suggestion is that the French begin defending themselves against German aggression and practicing the "blow for blow" technique against the soldiers of Adolf Hitler who have overthrown the French Government and are the masters of France.

MEXICO BARS JAP FISHERMEN.

FROM Mexico City comes word that an exclusive fishing concession has been granted Mexican fishermen off the west coast of Mexico.

This is interesting because American naval officers have commented upon the activity of Japanese fishing fleets, which, in their opinion, were often interested in more than fishing. In fact, it has been reported, without official confirmation, that Japanese naval officers have taken part in the fishing operations off the coast of Lower California.

The Japanese had a concession until last October. At that time Mexico prohibited foreign ships from working out of Mexican ports. Now they will be barred altogether. The Japanese have been suspected of making hydrographic surveys of Mexican waters for use in the event of war with this country.

MISSISSIPPI'S QUOTA DEMOCRATIC FUND $55,000.

JOHN SHARP HOLMES, state finance director for the national Democratic campaign, announces the appointment of seven congressional district directors to assist raising the State's quota for campaign expenses.

Mr. Holmes said the district directors would be assisted in the drive by the Executive Committee members in the respective districts, as well as by the County Democratic Executive Committee members and women.

There is no doubt Mississippi's quota of $55,000 will be raised without difficulty and then some more. Fifty-five thousand dollars seems a great sum but for the purpose announced it is comparatively small and will be rully realized.

THIS, TOO, IS IMPORTANT.

IN THE midst of the news from the war scared battle-fronts, let's not forget the importance of careful driving.

Highway accidents continue to take an unnecessary toll of human life in this country. Many of the accidents are preventable and some of them are the result of criminal carelessness.

Speeding is undoubtedly a factor, but there is absolutely no prospect that speeding will be eliminated, regardless of any kind of safety campaign. This leaves us to the consideration of other measures and we are of the opinion that persistent and rigorous enforcement of traffic regulations, including parking rules, will do much to cut down highway accidents.

It won't be long now before the nation will find out whether the national polls of public opinion are right.

The issues that interested men and women before the war broke out in Europe seem to be relatively unimportant.

Since the Federal government has filed suit to collect $2,900,000 alleged delinquent income taxes from the John Ringling estate, owners of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Shows, Fred Sullens of Jackson says, "Now watch the price of peanuts, popcorn, red lemonade and toy balloons go upward."

BRITAIN HAS CHANCE TO WIN.

AMERICAN Army officers, after spending several weeks in Great Britain, express the opinion that the war in Europe will be long-fought and they seem to think that the British have a chance to win.

It is noted, along this line, that the British Navy, Army and Air Force have increased in strength since war began last year. The morale of the people on the beleaguered island continues firm. Hitler's invasion has not begun and optimism increases as to what will happen when it starts.

The question now being cautiously discussed is, how can the British ever expect to win the war? It is pointed out that Germany has the greater population, control of vast areas of subjugated countries and the ability to unify continental resources for a bitter contest of endurance.

This is undoubtedly true. To it one must add the superior strength of the Nazi air force and the overwhelming might of its army. The navy, it appears, can be strengthened during the course of long war. What chance have the British?

It should be understood in considering this problem that Hitler's amazing success has been due largely to the surprise use of superior air strength. This is important because it opens the way for the British to defeat Germany without launching an actual invasion of Germany, which would cost millions of lives.

If the British can equal, and then surpass the Nazi air force, they will be able to pound Germany, from center to circumference. With the fleet tightening the blockade, which will weaken Germany industrially, and bombers giving Germany the "London-treatment," the chances are that the Nazis will cry "Kamerad!"

Now, the United States, and the dominions, play an important role in the prospects of British air supremacy. With British production of planes maintained as high as possible with this country making available its plant resources and the dominions attending to the training of pilots as well as bolstering plane production, there seems no reason to doubt the probability of British supremacy in a year or two.

EVERY AMERICAN CAN BE LOYAL.

THERE is little occasion for American citizens to lose their tempers over the presidential contest.

In a democracy it is natural for men and women to differ in their political views but if democracy is to succeed we must learn to temper our emotions in spite of divergent views.

There is need, in this country, for a union of purpose, such as has rarely existed. The nation undoubtedly faces external perils that invite the services of every American in behalf of his, or her, country.

The great service that you, as a citizen, can render your country between now and election day, is to resolve that regardless of the outcome of the election, the man selected by the majority of the people will be your President, regardless of how you may cast your ballot.

After all, the majority of the people have a right to name the Chief Executive of a democratic state. A minority has no right to sulk, or to deny the will of the people.

We have our choice, in the present election, but as a loyal citizen of a great democracy we pledge, here and now, our full cooperation to the victor in November. He will have a difficult task in guiding the destiny of this republic and we will give no aid or comfort to the enemies, of democracy by hampering him in his work.

TRAINEES TO CAMP SHELBY FORTUNATE.

HATTIESBURG, the "Hub City," has been transferred overnight into a crowded, bustling city from some twenty-odd thousand population to well over double that number since the advent of reopening of Camp Shelby as a training site.

With troops, first contingent to arrive from Ohio in November, added to its present population, an observer says within the radius embraced by Hattiesburg and Camp Shelby there will be assembled over one hundred thousand people.

Rents and other commodities have taken a spurt upward, but every effort to put a stop to practice will be exercised and profiteers routed.

However, Hattiesburg metropolis of south Mississippi, is on a boom, one of proportions undreamed of.

Trainees of the North destined South are fortunate to escape the rigors of northern climate and to enjoy the mild winter climate of the Sunny South.

"REPREHENSIBLE," SAYS THE PRESIDENT.

THE egg throwing incident at Candidate Wilkie's carriage while going through a town in Michigan this week is to be regretted. President Roosevelt stamps it as "reprehensible." Not only as a party nominee for the highest office within the gift of the people, but as a private citizen in legitimate pursuit, Mr. Wilkie is entitled to his or her opinion and choice. This is a democratic, free country. If one is entitled to their own opinion the same privilege must be granted to others.

The hope is expressed that such a disgraceful incident or anything of its kind will not occur again.

ABOUT EDITORIALS.

AS a writer of many editorials, with more or less nuisance value, we face increasing difficulty in the selection of subjects not connected with the war or the presidential election.

While it might as well be admitted that the interest of the people of Hancock county and of the United States is directed mainly toward the outcome of the struggle in Europe and our own presidential election, there should be other subjects of interest to the public mind.

We regret to report, however, that so far as we can discern, the people are interested in the war and the election. They are slightly bored by essays on worthwhile subjects and by cautious efforts to weigh the balances between contending forces.

Hollywood Echoes.

RUMOR has it that Deanna Durbin will end all speculation about her prospective marriage to Paul Vaughn, her boy friend for more than two years, by getting married sometime around the Christmas holidays. She will be eighteen on her next birthday, December 4.

Olivia De Havilland and Errol Flynn are to be teamed again in "Footsteps in the Dark."

Sylvia Sydney, who has been absent from the screen since her appearance in "You and Me" in 1938 will have the leading role in "Carnival," to be made by Warners. Humphrey Bogart will have the lead opposite her.

Six months' training at the Max Reinhardt Drama School in Hollywood for the movie extra selected as the best qualified to become a star has been provided by Constance Bennett under the scholarship to be known as the Annual Bennett Award.

Esther Ralston, beautiful screen actress, who hasn't been seen for almost three years, has been given a good role in the Twentieth Century Fox musical, "Tin Pan Alley."

Mildred Coles, a young brunette actress who has appeared in minor roles in "Fifth Avenue Girls," "No Time for Comedy," "Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever," "The Women" and several other good films, has been given the romantic ingenue lead in "Debutantes, Inc." in which Kay Francis and James Ellison will appear.

Clark Gable's five-year contract has so many special clauses and the like that it is the longest and most involved document in Hollywood's legal history. It contains 72 pages and looks like a bond.

While it seems unsettled as to who his leading lady is to be, Henry Fonda's role in "Lady Eve" will give him the first light role he has had in years and will be a distinct contrast to his roles in such films as "Young Mr. Lincoln," "The Grapes of Wrath," and "The Return of Frank James." At the present time, Barbara Stanwyck is scheduled to play the feminine lead.

The cast of "Passage West," which Columbia is producing, appeared before the cameras during the day and at night had five players who appeared in Noel Coward's "Tonight at 8.30," which was presented every night for four weeks to raise funds for war relief. Those appearing in the play were Constance Bennett, Marjorie Gatenon, Melville Cooper, Stanley Loan and William Morrison.

On the other hand, Greta Garbo is said to be trying almost in vain to add a few pounds and is going through a stiff course of Russian ballet lessons which, she's been told, will build her up physically.

In order to solve the problem of getting actresses who are not taller than Mickey Rooney, studio officials are thinking of assigning Mrs. William Powell, the former Diana Lewis, to him in the future. June Preisler and Judy Garland former leading ladies, had to kick off their shoes in scenes in which their feet did not show in order to appear taller than Mickey.

IT'S TRUE! By Wiley Padan

NEW YORK, N. Y. — IT'S TRUE! that while M-G-M's "Wyoming" company was on location shooting scenes for the new Wallace Beery picture, workmen unearthed a number of war arrows. This started an investigation which revealed that the site had once been occupied by a village of Nez Perce Indians and that the arrows were shot in a battle led by the famous Chief Joseph in 1877.

"Wyoming" is one of the most elaborate location pictures since "Northwest Passage." Dealing with upheavals, bandits and Indian uprisings in the days of General Custer, just after the SLANDERING A CHURCH.

(Jackson Daily News)

The news dispatches tell us there has been an ominous silence from officials in Washington and Mr. Myron C. Taylor as to the results of his efforts to co-operate with the pope in peace plans. The truth is that about as near nothing has been done as possible, and people are beginning to see that the pope will work for no peace except such as shall be in the interest of the Catholic church. It will be a bad day for the United States when we become a cat's paw for the pope to pull his chesnuts out of the fire.

That is nasty, unfair and untrue. Pope Pius, like his predecessor during the World War, has been a sincere seeker for peace. His appeals to the nations of Europe will go down in history as classics of earnest and eloquent literature. That they have fallen on deaf ears is not his fault.

The assertion that "the Pope will work for no peace except such as shall be in the interests of the Catholic church" could emanate only from an ignorant and bigoted mind filled with hatred for a great branch of the Christian faith.

As for Myron Taylor, a Christian gentleman and a great patriot, he performed his work to the best of his ability, at his own expense, and almost at the sacrifice of his own life. He was critically ill in Rome for several months. On returning to the United States, weak and emaciated, Mr. Taylor made his report to the President and his mission was ended.

Also, it is not amiss to tell the Editor of the Baptist Record that it is the custom among all educated writers to spell "Pope" with a capital P.

BLAIZE—SCAIFE.

A pretty Fall wedding celebrated on Saturday morning was that of Miss Josie Rosalie Scaife, second youngest daughter of Mrs. Frances Scaife and Leo P. Blaize, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Blaize.

The marriage of these two popular young people was solemnized at a nuptial mass at Our Lady of the Gulf Church with the Rev. Father Leo Fahey officiating and music provided by the church choir, under the direction of Mrs. George Guilbault, director. During the services, the "Ave Maria" was sung by Miss Marjorie Scaife and Steele Ansley also sang.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Arthur A. Scaife, and was attired in a chic storm blue costume suit trimmed in leopard fur and wearing a becoming brown felt hat and matching accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Frances Scaife, who was lovely in a fall model of green trimmed in mink fur and with brown hat and accessories, with which she wore a shoulder corsage of deep rose colored rose buds.

Mr. J. C. Roland, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Roland, acted as best man to Mr. Blaize.

A large assembly of relatives and friends gathered in the church to witness the wedding, and the altar and chancel had been prettily decorated with vases and baskets of varicolored dahlias, giant zinnias and gladioli and lighted candles in silver candelabra added to the arrangement.

After the wedding, a small reception was held at the home of Mrs. Scaife for relatives and the bridal party. In the reception rooms of the home were vases of flowers and at a prettily appointed table on which the wedding cake was cut, punch and cake were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaize left by motor for a honeymoon trip through Florida, and upon their return, will divide their time between several points in Louisiana and Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Blaize is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy and the Maybin School of New Orleans, while Mr. Blaize is a graduate of St. Stanislaus College and presently a member of the personnel of the Magnolia State Supply Company.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Mrs. P. LoCiura and daughter, Mary; Mrs. Frank D. Martina and daughters, Nancy, Gertrude, and Melie; Mrs. Edward Murtagh, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mathern, all of New Orleans; Miss Amelia Scaife of Alexandria, and Messrs. James Morrell, Paul Lagueny, and Alec Fourcade, all of New Orleans.

COULOGNE—RUSS, Logtown.

Miss Doris Russ, daughter of Mrs. Luther Russ and the late Mr. Russ of Logtown, and Alexander W. A. Coulogne, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander W. Coulogne of New Orleans, were married Wednesday evening of last week at the Logtown Methodist Church at 8 o'clock, Rev. C. G. Felder performing the ceremony. The church was decorated in palms and flowers and lighted by candlelight for the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Ames Russ, wore a simple girlish gown of white set over satin with the regulation wreath and veil and carried white bride roses. She had as her maid of honor her sister, Miss Edith Russ, who wore pale blue net and as her bridesmaid, Miss Ella Ray Marshall of Logtown, who wore pink net. Both carried arm bouquets of roses.

Mr. Coulogne had as his best man Warren Traub of Bay St. Louis and as groomsmen, Howell Russ, brother of the bride. The ushers were Charles Campbell and C. W. Fountain, Jr., both of Logtown.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Russ was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Coulogne, mother of the bridegroom. Later the couple left for a trip after which they will be at home in New Orleans.

The bride is a graduate of Bay High and the groom is an attaché of the Higgins Ship Building Co., of New Orleans.

Personal and General

THIS week has been one of unusual social activity and with Mrs. Sarah A. Powers and Mrs. E. J. Arceneaux's joint party for Tuesday afternoon of next week well promises to continue until the week following this one.

Mrs. H. A. Eldredge, of Abbeville, La., who is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter J. Gex, on South Beach, at their English home, is the recipient of many parties this week, and Mrs. Powers' lovely affair slated for next week will also be in compliment to Mrs. Eldredge.

The votaries of socialism are active and appear to be the signal for an active season prior to Thanksgiving and the Christmas holidays. Many smaller parties take place daily and "foursomes" complimentary to some one or another are popular.

One of the loveliest parties given recently was the bridge-luncheon on Tuesday at The Seagull by Mrs. F. J. Trastrout honoring two much-feted guests here at present, Mrs. H. A. Eldredge of Abbeville, La., and Mrs. Ferrell of Decatur, Ala., who is visiting at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ferrell.

The honorees were presented with shoulder corsages of American Beauties, and at each of the five tables, attractive gifts in patriotic theme were presented the winners.

The prizes were exquisite vanity boxes, with a cover emblematic of the American flag, the colors of the stars and stripes standing out in relief.

The guest list included besides Mrs. Eldredge and Mrs. Ferrell, Messdames Walter J. Gex, Jr., Alfred B. Vassalli, Lucien M. Gex, Edouard C. Carrere, John W. Bryan, Charles G. Moreau, Alvah P. Smith, Milton A. Phillips, N. L. Carter, Sarah A. Power, E. N. Spence, E. J. Arceneaux, Leo W. Seal, Alice C. Buckley, Eugene Mogabgab, Ulysses Cuevas, Harry Bonck, Joseph A. Scharff, Bernard Blaize, S. M. Meyer, Miss Clara Kergosien and the hostess, Mrs. Trastrout.

The picturesque beach home of Mrs. E. H. Singreen was again the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday evening when Miss Dorothy Turpin, of Bastrop, Louisiana, and Fred Ammon of Monroe, Louisiana were married there before a small gathering of friends and relatives.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Costello, pastor of St. Clare's Catholic Church of Waveland. The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Turpin of Bastrop, was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Corbin Turpin, and was attired in a white moire wedding gown with short bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley and her only attendant was Miss Patricia Robin, who was pretty in pink net over taffeta and carried pink rosebuds.

The reception rooms of the Singreen home were beautiful with white gladioli and fern, and music for the wedding was rendered by Mrs. J. B. Goldman at the piano and Mrs. Catherine Thomas on the violin. A small reception was held immediately after the ceremony and the beautiful wedding cake cut before the young couple left on a honeymoon trip. Mr. Ammon chose for a travelling costume a blue wool dress with matching accessories.

Mrs. Ammon was one of the attendants at the recent wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holland Collins, the latter the former Miss Dorothy Singreen, and is a senior in the School of Business Administration of Tulane University, and Mr. Ammon is a graduate of Loyola College of Dentistry.

THE ECHO'S
COOKING CLASS

In the South rice is served often, few foods have as dainty a flavor. Another thing in its favor is that it is an inexpensive, wholesome food that offers many possibilities in the planning of well-balanced meals.

Boiled Rice

Wash the rice in cold water several times. Have ready boiling water—3 times as much water as rice, adding 1 teaspoon of salt for every quart of water. Add the rice to the water slowly, taking care not to let the water stop boiling. Let cook undisturbed for 25 minutes or until the rice is tender. When done empty the rice in a colander and pour hot water through it until the grains separate. Drain, place the colander in a saucepan, let stand on back of stove 10 minutes.

Deviled Rice and Cheese Balls.

1 cup raw rice
1 egg
Salt
1 package of sharp cheese
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons grated horseradish
Cook rice. Then mix with egg, which has been well-beaten, add 1-4 teaspoon salt. Shape the cheese into balls about 3-4 inch in diameter. Roll them in the mustard and horseradish, which has been mixed together. Put rice and egg mixture around the cheese balls, being careful that every bit of cheese is covered. Shape with the hands. Fry in deep fat until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper and keep hot until ready to serve.

British will not lift the food blockade, Lethian declares.

Waveland Activities

Personal and General News Notes of the Week From Sister City and Vicinity.

On Monday, September 30th at 10 A. M., the Waveland School dedicated a new American flag.

The Clement R. Bontemps Post No. 139, American Legion conducted the ceremonies.

Mr. Henry Capdepon was master of ceremonies. Post chaplain Rev. A. J. Boyles opened the ceremonies with prayer for peace. Mr. Capdepon then introduced Capt. C. M. Burgdahl, who was to explain to the children the origin and meaning of our flag. Mr. Burgdahl requested the children to rise and sing America. He told about the colors—red, white and blue—and about the stars and what they stood for, naming each state as it was admitted to the Union. How to fold the flag, how to hoist the flag; all of which was instructive to the school children and the audience.

The pupils then sang the Star Spangled Banner as the flag was hoisted. Mr. Capdepon instructed the children on respect to the flag when raising and lowering the colors.

Two boys were detailed as custodians of the flag during the school term, Raymond Marrero and R. Ruhr. Young Marrero hoisted the flag while the pupils sang the Star Spangled Banner, in a very impressive manner. He was assisted by Ruhr.

Mrs. Thos. Kickham and Miss F. Divaney have returned to the city for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Burgdahl drove to New Orleans for a few days on business.

Mr. Harold Zimmerman motored to New Orleans on Monday to bring back Mayor T. J. Bourgeois, who has been ill for some time. Glad to hear news of his improved condition and all wish him a speedy recovery. Mayor Bourgeois presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen Tuesday night at Town Hall. He walks very well with the aid of a cane.

"They Ride by Night" Is Thrilling New Strand Film For A. & G.

Plenty of laughs, excitement and romance are in store for Strand audiences when Warner Brothers' new film, "They Drive By Night," opens this Sunday. The cast includes an array of screen talent that is difficult to surpass. In the starring roles are George Raft, Ann Sheridan, Ida Lupino and Humphrey Bogart.

Raft falls in love with a waitress. Played by Ann Sheridan.

This sinister plot includes the murder of the husband she has always loved. Believing that the removal of this obstacle to her unrequited love will change Raft's attitude toward her, she becomes infuriated at his continued coldness toward her. In a moment of frenzy she places the blame for the murder on Raft's hapless head. From there on, the action of "They Drive By Night" moves rapidly with increasing tempo to its astounding climax. Raoul Walsh handled the directorial reigns and the famous writing team of Jerry Ward and Richard Macaulay wrote the scenario. The film includes such fine performers as Roscoe Karns, Gail Page, John Littel and Joyce Compton in the supporting cast.

"They Drive by Night" was adapted for the screen from a novel by A. I. Bezzerides.

Undefeated Bay High Tigers To Play Host To Wiggins (Tonight) Friday

The Bay High Tigers will be striving to keep their slate clean when they tag the highly touted Wiggins Wildcats Friday night at 8 o'clock at S. S. C. Stadium. The Bengals came through their last encounter in fine fashion, winning a hard fought 6-0 victory over Poplarville. After battling on almost even terms for three quarters, the Bay High lads finally started rolling and completely dominated the play in the final period. Sparked by the brilliant running of W. Rhodes, the local boys started a march from their own forty which ended in Rhodes smashing over from the four yard line. The attempted buck for the extra point was unsuccessful.

Wiggins, who boasts their strongest team in years crushed Pascagoula in an early season game by a 3-0 score. Friday night's battle from all indications should certainly prove a thriller.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

THEN AND NOW

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Sept. 30, 1940.
Editor Sea Coast Echo:

During the summer of 1913 when I had my first proud possession, an automobile, an unnamed, for which I paid the sum of $1200, (and what a car you may purchase for that amount today), I remember well how primitive were the "roadways" in and through Hancock county.

Prof. T. L. Trawick admired my purchase to such an extent that as a compliment and commendation of my purchase he presented me with a book, strong and elegantly bound. The pages within were in the form of a road diary or log of a trip. Mileage used from place to place, how much gasoline was consumed and the cost, and the "Remarks" that followed at the bottom of the page, were all given proper and sufficient space and carefully ruled. Gasoline then, may I say in parenthesis, was 11 cents per gallon.

That car traveled at high speed—35 miles an hour, and the big trip on Sundays was one that took our party by way of McLeod's, over the bridge at Jordan river, over the Hancock county Harrison line. Then over a succession of small bridges, seven in all, if memory serves well, which the late Dr. Kergosien then called the swamp and water "Mauvaise Ravine." The first word was feminine for bad, and when we had crossed this low, swampy spot, all ways with trepidation, it was a triumph. And more so because the approaches from both sides of the succession of bridges (delapidated wooden ones) were thick with white sand. One invariably became 'stuck' in the sand, and there was no way of getting out.

However, no matter how late at night on the return trip, invariably two men with a spade, would appear apparently from no where, and render the necessary emergency assistance. They would shovel away the sand until hard bottom was revealed. Then, with the aid of ropes, they finally got the motorist out of a plight that meant remaining in the woods all night, unless by some good fortune or providential luck, someone passing in a more powerful or better car would come to the rescue. It had to be a mighty big and powerful car to do so. Then, at times, it would be necessary to have recourse to a pair of mules or team of oxen. Those were the good old days. When a fellow needed a friend that friend was there pronto.

Back to the thrill of Prof. Trawick's log. In this book we jotted with meticulous care time accomplished between given points, as to greatest speed records; amount of gasoline consumed. At times we covered from fifteen to twenty miles within an hour, and then we would do better, depending on condition of road.

County roads back there were ungraded in greater part and hills in the vicinity of Pine Hills would revolt. Such things as slipping clunch, now unheard of, was then very common. But we were wise in those days. At least, we thought so. We always carried a supply of powdered rosin and would use this abundantly to prevent "slipping." If the rosin was not at hand we had recourse to another idea. We picked up handfuls of sand and used it as a substitute. This, of course, was extremely damaging to the surface of the clutch and in time ruined it beyond repair. The smooth surface was gone and there was no more surface to "clutch."

If we were destined to Biloxi we left home at an early hour and were back home about 9 or 10 o'clock at night. That was considered good time, allowing a reasonable length of time for the visit at journey's end.

We always carried our lunch and such days thusly spent were great events, for they were not frequent. The log of the entire trip was a most extraordinary matter of detail of the eventful journey. We thought we had "something" that some day we might narrate to our grandchildren, a something in thrill and passive excitement that would parallel Paul Revere's ride. One needs not dwell on the "then" and "now" aspect of the trip. It is too well known. We cross the Bay St. Louis bi-county bridge and negotiate the trip to Biloxi in less than an hour, without the slightest untoward incident and scarcely a matter of event, but to admire how the Gulf Coast has progressed and prospered since 1913.

How the country has become one network of hard-surfaced highways and how the automobile has improved from well nigh an experiment to a thing of mechanical and automotive perfection is short of a miracle.

The first car, especially mine of the 1913 vintage, had no self-starter, and lights were shipped from a tank of carbide and later from acetylene tanks that had to be replenished from time to time. The tank was carried on the running board. Cars had no side doors and the closed in car was not known nor did it become popular as today until a late date.

The open car of that time were harassing when it rained. One had to battle with side curtains, which were hard to find to fit the right side. They were hard to button. And after this "operation" had been performed the rain or deluge would about that time subside and old Sol would show again and seemingly laugh in mockery. For the rain-beleaguered occupants of the car were by this time thoroughly drenched to the skin.

Who said those were the happy days? Who would want to go back to that time? Contrast that with now and be thankful for what we have and say what a wonderful age we live in.
